

To The English Language

You said “I love you” and “I can’t love you” and “I don’t love you any more”

You raised my hopes breathed ecstasy into my neck spelled out rejection

Having known you—my maker
I sat down and wrote a poem
Now, look: I have made you

Poem from the volume Intricacies (Finishing Line Press 2016)
Copyright©2016 by Joanna Kurowska